Please excuse my copy-edit error -- here are the correct links to the Fla Supreme Court's website, verifying my claims of almost winning the Terri Schiavo case -- all by myself -- and doing better than both Gov. John Ellis "Jeb!" Bush and former Pres. George W. Bush. [And when trying to use Old School AOL, earlier, I misspelled Emily's 1st name -- apologies again.]

Same question -- I am making a formal press inquiry to both the Campaign and the Senate office. I am not violating the Hatch Act, as I am NOT asking the Senate office to address campaign issues on the tax dollar, but rather a courtesy to keep everyone in the loop & on the same page.

My next series of editorials, guest columns, and OpEds will likely be critical and embarrassing as before with other lawmakers (see what we published in re Hon. Dennis A. Ross, my Congressman -- and good friend), but I am a Christian, and my conscience says I must give you a "fair" chance to weigh in before publishing more embarrassing matters, or calling fellow-Conservatives "tax & spend" liberals, as demarcated below. I have deadlines, so please tarry not.

Dear Jarilyn and Kathryn: (Cc: Andrew Gillum and Ron DeSantis, Fla. Gubernatorial candidates)

(typo) After I sent my press inquiry yesterday, I noticed a typo in the links below in the links to the Fla Supreme Court, verifying that I AM 'the' guy who almost won the infamous Terri Schiavo (Fla. feeding tube girl) case - all by myself. I think that I edited the link and put in the correct link.

(cc recipients) I misspelled Kyle Glenn's email (chief of staff, Hon. Dennis Ross) and left out a few new additions or Higher Ed staff I overlooked -- this time, I'm not sending the attachments -- you got them last time -- and they're linked below anyway.

(NEW MATTER) But, I am including the 2 Fla. Gub. candidates, to be efficient and combine my emails -- see below...

(1 of 2) Mr. Gillum, thank you, in advance for your review of my press inquiry question -- but with all due respect, when I get ready to pen my upcoming editorial series, I would like to know your thoughts on my assessment that you are wrong to oppose Public Ed vouchers. Here is my reasoning: You liberals and Democrats gladly accept Federal Pell Grants (and you are RIGHT!), and none of you complain that this "sucks monies" from Public Universities in cases (and they exist) where a poor liberal Democrat student uses his or her PELL at a Private or Religious college. So, since Vouchers operate in "exactly" the same way ($$ only used for education, but as a grant), why do you have a double-standard for Vouchers that you don't have for Pell's? When penning my editorials, letters, guest columns, and OpEds (depending on the paper), I will be able to take only 1 of 3 tacts: (#1) You explain to me why I am wrong, and I will admit it, and give you credit; (#2) you admit you are wrong, and publicly pledge to change course, and you get positive press from me, a far-right Conservative writer; (#3) do neither, and I call you out, politely, but firmly. (I strongly disagree here, but I oppose and violence, rudeness, threats, etc.; for many reasons, inc. my religious beliefs.)

(2 of 2) Mr. DeSantis, thank you also for your time. You opponent called you out for making a comment that he would "Monkey Up" the economy, or words to that effect, and he called you racially prejudiced, recall? While I agree with Michael Barnett, Palm Beach County GOP Chairman Michael Barnett, that you aren't prejudiced (but merely used a poor choice of words), I will do a "test" to see if you ARE or ARE NOT prejudiced (either racially or against poor), OK? It's a 2-parter, so I am not giving you a pass just because you are GOP like me.. so, here goes:

(a) See below, where I have press inquiry about why GOP leaders don't follow the Constitution in re HR2366, which, I recall, you did NOT support or cosponsor when you were a Member of Congress.. If you are 'ok' with Bankruptcy rights for yourself and your rich friends (Pres. Trump, for whom I voted, and whom I love as a leader), but not collegiate loans, you are prejudiced against the poor.

(b) Note that: "" "Four years after graduating college, black students owe nearly twice as much student debt as their white peers do and are three times more likely to default on those loans, according to a new paper by the Brookings Institution." Source: "[Black College Grads Have Twice as Much Student Debt as Whites," by Kerri Anne Renzulli, TIME, Oct 21, 2016.""]

Source: <http://time.com/money/4540266/student-debt-racial-gap> Since the liberal policies of both Democrats and the GOP in re Higher Ed have hurt Blacks more than the national average, your Unconstitutional refusal to cosponsor HR2366 (which would also fix the art1, sec8, cl4 violation of the uniformity clause (US Constitution) and get tax$$ of the hook, and reduce the taxing and spending, elucidated below) would be prejudiced in action, even if that was not your intent. Again, Ron... I have but 3 options when I next write about you, here... (#1) You explain to me why I am wrong, and I will admit it, and give you credit; (#2) you admit you are wrong, and publicly pledge to change course, and you get positive press from me, a far-right Conservative writer; (#3) do neither, and I call you out, politely, but firmly. (I strongly disagree here, but I oppose and violence, rudeness, threats, etc.; for many reasons, inc. my religious beliefs.)

With Kind regards,I am, Sincerely,

Gordon Wayne Watts

Jarilyn and Kathryn, with reference to my calls to your press office, I wanted to let you know that I've gotten the green light from 2 of the 3 publications, below, to submit a 700-word Guest Column and OpEd on the subject of current higher ed problems in America, and I've included both PDF attachments and links of my recent published research on this to give you an idea of where I am going. First off, yes, I am "the" guy who almost won the infamous Terri Schiavo (Fla feeding tube girl) case all by myself -- Google me or visit the Court's website. So, you can trust I am a heavyweight Conservative, all the way, pro-life, and fiscally Conservative (against excess tax/spend), pro-gun, pro-Constitution, etc., as well, FWIW, and FYI- observe:

[1] In Re: GORDON WAYNE WATTS (as next friend of THERESA MARIE "TERRI" SCHIAVO), No. SC03-2420 (Fla. Feb.23, 2005), denied 4-3 on rehearing. (Watts got 42.7% of his panel) <https://www.floridasupremecourt.org/clerk/dispositions/2005/2/03-2420reh.pdf>

[2] In Re: JEB BUSH, GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA, ET AL. v. MICHAEL SCHIAVO, GUARDIAN: THERESA SCHIAVO, No. SC04-925 (Fla. Oct.21, 2004), denied 7-0 on rehearing. (Bush got 0.0% of his panel before the same court) <https://www.floridasupremecourt.org/clerk/dispositions/2004/10/04-925reh.pdf>

[3] Schiavo ex rel. Schindler v. Schiavo ex rel. Schiavo, 403 F.3d 1223, 2005 WL 648897 (11th Cir. Mar.23, 2005), denied 2-1 on appeal. (Terri Schiavo's own blood family only got 33.3% of their panel on the Federal Appeals level) <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/200511556.pdf>

To begin with, my focus will be on the GOP's "twin failures" to avoid tax & spend legislation (tuition = type of tax, e.g., $$ going to arm of government, state gov't college, as here, and spending trillions to make/or/guarantee college loans, which is horribly extravagant spending, plus interest on said loans), and, since I can document that almost ten (10%) percent of total debt is college debt, something that can (and should) be eliminated totally (we used to NEVER have taxpayer-backed collegiate loans), we are purposely spending too much, and I predict that we will crash the U.S. Dollar (like Greece, Venezuela, ancient Rome, etc.) The "twin" failures are 1. excess taxation and 2. excess spending. (While it looks like I am asking for Free College, I am not: That is a liberal free handout, but excess tax is far more liberal.) [[Clarification: We spend more on defense, social security, even mortgage debt, but most of these can't be cut much; only collegiate debt can be one-hundred (100%) percent and totally eliminated, thus preventing another crash of our economy, ok?]]

Also, the current bankruptcy code violates the U.S. Constitution's "uniformity clause" (Art.1 Sec.8 Cl.4), which is a special type of Equal Protection. While the Constitution does not guarantee Bankruptcy, it DOES require that any law on Naturalisation, Immigration, or Bankruptcy be uniform, and BK code is NOT uniform: (A) Just ask any college student -- it is NOT uniform, since rich folk and Credit Card users (with similarly-unsecured debt), and (B) from circuit to circuit, the collegiate loan standard is not even "internally" uniform, some circuits using the "Undue Harship" standard, and some using the "Totality of Circumstances" argument.

On a personal note, I understand that my friend, Alan, tried to ask Congresswoman Virginia Foxx, about this, both in a town hall, and afterwards. He is a good guy, and very smart, but he's "one of those Democrats," and, as such, does not have good communication skills like me, so I will step in and be his advocate, since -- as a matter of policy -- he is actually right (and, he's a "good" democrat, not actually seeking a Free College / Free Handout, like most of those on the left). Foxx, to her credit, is reported to have considered the costs of college in her answer, and made an honest effort, but, if I heard correctly, she was incorrect to assert that college was affordable. (It WAS affordable, when she and I were young, but now a part-time job in college will NOT cut it.)

Tuition has skyrocketed and soared because liberal Democrats made loans easily available on the tax dollar, which hurt taxpayers (on the hook) and students (since colleges jacked up tuition to match increased borrowing abilities), but then the GOP made matters worse. When the GOP-led House and Senate slowly, but surely, removed bankruptcy protections from collegiate loans, there was no longer a "Conservative Free Market" check against Predatory Lending. Think of it in 2 ways: First, Bankruptcy (theoretically) operates like an "Economic Second Amendment" when lenders try to price-gouge consumers, and Secondly, remember the 2009 Housing Bubble was bad, no?.. (The gov't forced banks to lend to poor people who weren't credit worthy, and couldn't repay.) But those people had BK protections, and had they not, lenders would have piled on even worse, and probably crashed the U.S. Dollar. (Again, as Collegiate Debt is almost 10% of total U.S. debt, you WILL crash the U.S. dollar if you keep taxing and spending us into oblivion, and moreover, students hate the GOP because they protect Mr. Trump's right to bankruptcy, but not theirs.)

So, the focus of my columns, letters, op-ed's, articles, and such will be on the failure of both parties when they held complete control (House, Senate, and Presidential chair) at various times, but especially the GOP's failure. I am a Conservative first, and THEN a Republican, so I will hold lawmakers accountable... well, actually, I am a Christian first, so I will give you a "genuine" and "real" chance to see my intent, and then either (#1) tell me why I'm wrong, or (#2) apologize and pledge to pass HR2366 into law (bankruptcy, a partial cure for taxation here) and also start reducing loan limits (the spending side). I do note that Sens. Elizabeth Warren and Marco Rubio have introduced a bill to protect people from losing a driver's license or professional license solely for defaulted loans (which is good, since losing your chiropractor's or driver's license makes it even harder to pay back.) Barring 1, or 2, above, I will use option #3 which is to call out GOP lawmakers for violating the US Constitution, and being tax & spend liberals, who will anger students & crash the U.S. Dollar as it will happen on our watch, if we don't watch and pray and pass corrective legislation.
